Farewell

Now, finally we graduate from Hopewell High ;
The time has come for us to bid our last good-by,
We'll miss the books, the desks, the friends we knew so well,
The sound of laughing voices along the hall after each bell.

March forward, fellow classmates,
To your separate jobs in this world ;
There is a war that must be won,
Before our banner again may be unfurled.

We will do our part, we will help to fight,
For this is our country, too !
We will fight until all again is free
Under our flag of red, white, and blue.

Yes, classmates, march out into a new world,
Into a country that counts upon its youth,
March on, with confidence that we shall win
For on our side are God and Truth.

So, now, as we take the last steps to the graduation stand,
Receive our diplomas and shake our Principal's hand,
It's with pleasure and regret both we say good-by
To you from the 1944 Class of Hopewell High.

—NANCYE ALDRIDGE.

Class Prophecy

I know we have all heard of amazing dreams, but just let me tell you of the one I had the other night. As I lay in bed trying to get to sleep it seemed that my thoughts would not leave the excitement of the nearing graduation of the 1944 Class. So, finally, when I did drift off into the land of nod my dreams were along that subject.

In the dream a little elf seemed to confront me and asked me what one wish would I like him to grant me. It dawned upon me that this was my chance to see how my classmates would turn out. So I requested that I be able to look into the future one day ten years from the day of the graduation in June 1944. Then with a wave of his hand, there appeared before me the skyscrapers of New York City in the year 1954 and I was there for a brief glimpse into the lives of some of my former classmates.

Before me was a large flashing sign: "Jackie's Charm Shop." Could that possibly be Jackie Goldman of Hopewell? When I entered the exclusive shop, I discovered that I was right. It was Jackie and also four others of my classmates: Misses Myrtle Baldwin, Jean Haines, Leona Hardy, and Katherine Hnarakis, who were sales-ladies there. Jackie informed me that Sue Lewis designed all of their most fashionable clothes. Another surprise was in store for me when I saw who the three charming models were—none other than the Misses Genevieve Renn, Helen Robinson, and Nancye Aldridge. Among the customers I found Mrs. Charles Tueker, the former Miss Ila Mae Cary, and Mrs. North Mason, the former Miss Allene Bareo. It seems they were about to meet their Navy husbands just in from a cruise on their ship, which is under the command of Admiral Collier. The ladies told me that Patsy Kelly was now running the "Kelly Success Course" with the help of her capable assistants, Jane Ann Johnson, Marilyn, and Carolyn Thompson.

While luncheon I glanced at the New York Times and was greatly surprised to find that Robert Scott was editor. On further examination I found the top rating cartoonist to be Jimmy Jarvis. The outstanding columnist for the paper was the one and only James Slovic, who devoted his day's write-up to the praises of Kenneth Harshbarger and Winona Colona, the two famous scientists at the R.C.A. Laboratory. Before I left the restaurant, I discovered that it was owned and operated by Hampton Parsons. He invited me to attend a stage show starring Marion Atwater, better known as Miss Twinkle Toes. After the show we saw Marion and her business manager, Judith Futeh. Judy showed me a clipping about Shirley Pond, who is now playing the part of Little Buttercup in the operetta, H.M.S. Pinafore.

In my dreams I began to flash from city to city picking out other members of the 1944 Class. First I saw Kitty Garrett, who was editing True Love Confessions, America's most interesting magazine. On her staff I found Dorothy Creech, editor of the "Lonely Hearts Column," and her assistants, Lila Quick and Violet Rhodes.

My next stop was in Fredericksburg where the basketball teams of Mary Washington and Madison had finished a tie game. The coaches, Norma Morris and Mable Lewis, were congratulating each other on their fine teams.

After that I appeared to be in a Richmond Radio Studio. First I saw George Davis, who was reporting on the Sports of the Day. His first report was on the Hopewell-Petersburg game that had been played that afternoon in Hopewell. He mentioned that Coach Dante Fratarcangelo and his assistant, Coach Billy Epperson, deserved a lot of credit for turning out such fine Blue Devils. Another sport flash that George mentioned was that Vivian Harrison had won her third cup as the Champion Woman Bicycle Rider. Then he gave a blow by blow description of one round of a boxing match between Francis Vergara and Clifford Wyatt. His final sport scope was that Jimmy Miles had just defeated Willy Hopp as National Billiard Champion.

Harvey Lowder, a news commentator, then took over. He had made quite a name for himself over the radio. Miss Ann Carwile stepped before the microphone and announced the following program, "Life Can Be Beautiful." She gave a few beauty hints to her listeners and then turned the microphone over to the star of the program, Miss Frances Barnett. I found later that Miss Clara Bailey was the script writer for the program. As I left the studio, I bumped into Betty Sheets, who informed me that she was going to speak on the radio program, "Women In America." Marie Hussar was in charge of the program. Betty had even more good news to tell me. She said that Jackie Quillen had been elected Representative to the General Assembly in Richmond.

My dream again changed. This time I was in Hopewell. I hardly recognized the town. Ten years had brought about many changes. The first new building to attract my attention was the "Super Duper" Market owned and run by George Inge. And who was that passing out those luscious steaks? Why, it was Martin Lemon! Who would have ever dreamed of those steaks ten years ago? But to get back to my amazing discoveries—Marie and Alma Hughes now own the largest beauty salon in town called the "Finishing Touch." One of their outstanding operators was Melba Jackson. Nyra Harris was their bookkeeper.

The Telegraph Office it seemed was run by Miss Angela Werbenec, while the new Mayor of the town was Fletcher McCutcheon, who by the way had his own large rabbit farm outside of town. The City Treasurer, William McDaniel; Superintendent of Public Welfare, Rowena Connelly; City Clerk, Lucy Fauntleroy; City Manager, Glenn Saunders; and Mahala Saunders, who was in charge of City Recreation, have made a simply grand job of running the city.

The large new library was run by Miss Pauline Chavis who had as an able assistant, Miss Ruth Crutehfield. Another new building had been erected just outside of town. Yes, a lovely new hospital stood proudly in Hopewell. And proud it should be of its doctors and nurses. I found among the staff Dr. Burney and Nurses Irene Cibula, Dorothy Collins, Kathryn Holsclaw, and Ruby Eller. Their Laboratory Technician was Barbara Buren.

As if the already outstanding accomplishments of the 1944 Class weren't enough, I found still more active members of the Class. There were Waverly Cox, Post Office Inspector, and Edward Henry, Postmaster, as well as Ivey Hogwood and Christine Titmus, who were in charge of the Modern Hopewell Telephone Company. James Jackson owned a large farm on the outskirts of town. One of the largest men's clothing stores in town was owned by James Jones and Reuben Sulc. Misses Ruth Webb and Virginia Sulc had an especially fine Kindergarten in town.

On visiting the Alma Mater we found the faculty included some of our classmates. There was Frances McCracken, who was now Assistant Principal; Frances Partin, Teacher of girls' Physical Education; Milam Smith, Speed Technician for Shorthand Classes; Cornelia Lawton, history teacher; Mary Gene Alford, Head of the Commercial Department, and Ila Ammons, who was in charge of the Home Economics cottage.

Later I found out that the daily Hopewell News was edited by Joseph Lipsecomb. And the Society Column was written by Laura Jean Mabon. George Robertson was the ace reporter of the paper.

Fred Hummel had a large airplane factory outside of town, known as "Hummel's Helicopter Plant." Gould McIntyre was his best test pilot, while "Mickey" Micklem was in charge of plane production. Zona Zeh was Fred's private secretary with Arline Murphy in charge of the Personnel Department.

My dream ended in a quaint little night club named "Dew Drop Inn," which was owned jointly by Miss Sue Wilson and Mr. James Glazer. Among those enjoying the evening there were Darrell Ernest and Billy Shurm, prominent citizens of Hopewell. The famous orchestra, "Wicker's Wild Cats," was playing while Francis Glover, who had flown there from Hollywood, sang a few of the latest hits. He had become the Sinatra of 1954. Speaking of Sinatra, his ever loyal fan, Jean Wilson, is now in charge of wheeling him around in his wheel chair.

There my dream ended—what a dream! but then, what a class that one was in '44.

ALLEN HITTING THE CRIMSON WAVE

The 1943 football team proved to be a most co-operative team throughout the season. They won four games and lost four games. Their total number of points scored was seventy-one which was also the total number of points scored by their opponents. Although defeated by score our boys matched their victorious opponents in excellent ball playing.

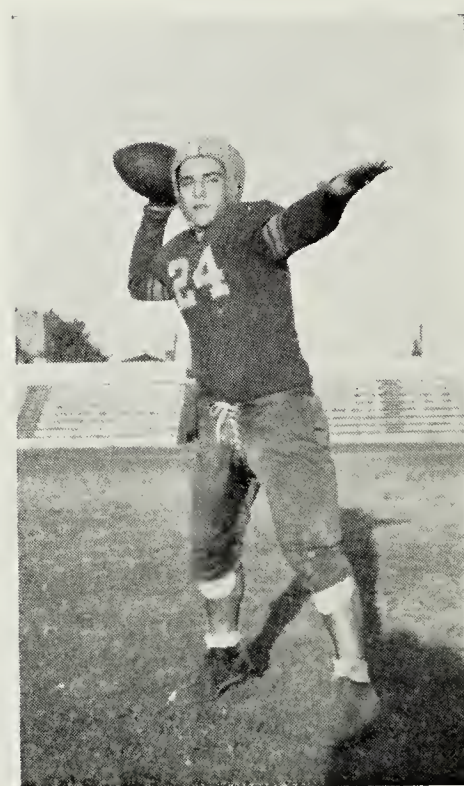

ST. CHRISTOPHER 19—HOPEWELL 0

With only three lettermen back, two of which were reserves, Coach Parson's green but spirited Blue Devils traveled to Richmond for their first game and first defeat. The team played as well as was expected of them, however, and held St. Christopher to the smallest score of their season.

PORTSMOUTH 0—HOPEWELL 6

The Hopewell Blue Devils defeated the Woodrow Wilson football team at Portsmouth 6-0 for the first Class A game of the season. The Blue Devils began what appeared to be a touchdown march on the kickoff, making five first downs consecutively but were stopped on the Portsmouth eight-yard line and lost the ball on downs. They were unable to score until the third period when they made the one touchdown of the ball game.

CREWE 0—HOPEWELL 13

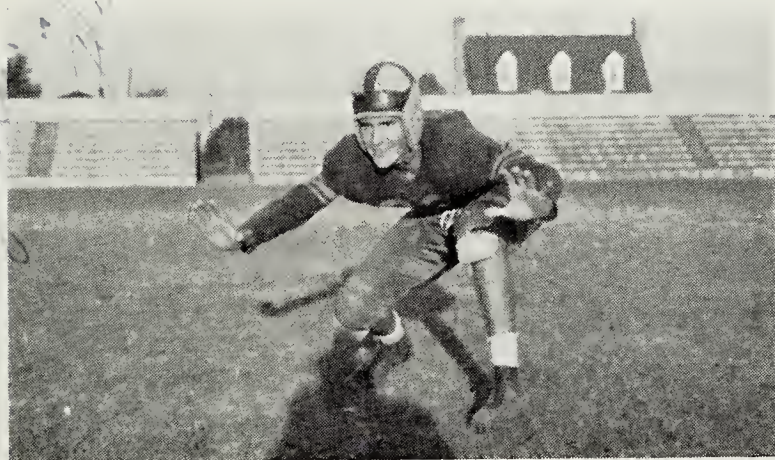

With one defeat and one victory behind them Hopewell stopped Crewe's famous and effective passing attack to turn back the Railroaders with a vastly improved football team. The team was in good condition and awaited anxiously the game with Petersburg the following week.

PETERSBURG 7—HOPEWELL 0

Due to luck and a good strong wind, Petersburg won the annual Southside Virginia classic. Hopewell received the kickoff on their own eight-yard line and a few plays later Futch kicked, only to have the ball carried out on the Hopewell 28. Petersburg's all-state back, Kitchen, then carried it over in a few line plays and that was the ball game. The rest was nip and tuck all the way and mostly a punting duel between Futch and Kitchen.

HAMPTON 18—HOPEWELL 20

Probably the most exciting game of the season was at Hampton where Hopewell won its second Class A contest. Hopewell threatened to score three times in the first quarter but failed and the score stood 6-0 in Hampton's favor at the half. In the third quarter Tucker made Hopewell's first touchdown on a beautiful sixty-yard run which was evenly matched by Hampton in the first of the fourth. It was then, however, that Tucker made his second touchdown of the afternoon after which Epperson surprisingly intercepted a pass and ran the remaining forty yards for the third. Then, to top it all off, Hampton again scored in the last two minutes of play. It was a swell game but cost heavily in injuries.

JOHN MARSHALL 13—HOPEWELL 12

Although outplaying the Justices in every respect and running up ten first downs, compared with two for John Marshall, two long runs by Ballinger and the one extra point, accounted for a very heartbreaking game. Our defeat was due largely to the injuries sustained in the Hampton game but our boys have nothing to be ashamed of for their performance on that day was certainly something to be proud of.

BENEDICTINE 0—HOPEWELL 13

This contest was evenly fought by both teams but the Blue Devils beat the Cadets at their own game, passing, by completing two touchdown passes.

THOMAS JEFFERSON 14—HOPEWELL 7

The Blue Devils wound up their 1943 season by playing one of their best games of ball against Teejay of Richmond, who won the state's championship. The score was tied until the final minutes when Hungerford, Teejay's all state end, caught a pass and went over for the touchdown.

Next year the squad will lose some of their best men due to various causes. Charles Tucker, half-back for 43, has already entered the Navy. Others that will probably not be back are Epperson, Robinson, Davis, Jones and Parsons.

Baseball

The following three lettermen reported to Coach Parsons for baseball this spring: James Jones, pitcher; Allen Garrett, catcher; Hampton Parson, third base. These boys will form the nucleus for the Blue Devils 1944 baseball team. Prospects are that Hopewell will have a fair team this year. Hopewell has consistently had good baseball teams in the past and it is hoped that the team this year will live up to this record.

Basketball

With only one letterman back from last year, Coach Parson's call for prospects was answered by a great number of ambitious boys among which were many of our outstanding intra-mural stars of '43. The Blue Devils got off to a rather bad start, losing their first three games, but evened the score by winning the next three. The final count at the close of the season was 7 wins and 9 losses. The last game was a triumphant victory over their ancient rivals, Petersburg, by a score of 45-22. Hopewell was greatly honored by and justly proud of the election of our center, "Dickie" Brockwell, to the Central District team.

The Devilettes had an excellent season this year, emerging undefeated.

Despite the problem of transportation the team was able to schedule ten games.

The Devilettes practically doubled their opponents' score by scoring 273 to 137 points.

Norma Morris, honorary captain and ball handler, was high scorer with 93 points to her credit. Elsie Denson and Helen Robinson followed closely, Elsie Denson scoring 82 points and Helen Robinson 71 points.

Mahala Saunders, Frances Partin, and Frances Garfinkel played zone defense the entire season. This trio was one of the best H.H.S. has produced in years. Their excellent team work accounted in great part for the opponents' low average.

The squad had an unusually co-operative squad this year and despite the fact that they will have only one letterman back, it is believed that the year's scrubs will make an excellent team in 1945.
